Sailing of an Expedition from New York ...Thirty Spanish Gunboats Building.

Several of the New York papers deny the report that an expedition, composed of what is generally styled "filibusters," has sailed from that port for Cubs. Others, however, insist that such an expedition has certainly sailed, and give such minute details as to leave the public to believe that there is truth in the rumor. The New York Times says:

rumor. The New York Times says:

Active secret enlistments of men for this expedition have been going on in this city for some time past, and one or two drill-rooms have been open for the purpose of drilling the recruits. A recruiting station or headquarters is said to have existed at No. 697 Broadway, under the care and sufferishment of an ex-officer of the Union army, who claims that during the rebellion he "pressed things" with Sheridan in the Valley. It is said that during the last two months this officer has recruited about four hundred and fifty men, and the expedition which sailed on the fourth was composed of this force, and perhaps of others.

The attention of the authorities was directed by those having the management of affairs to the wrong ship. Reports were circulated to the effect that the steamer Arago had departed by those having the management of affairs to the wrong ship. Reports were circulated to the wrong ship. Reports were circulated to the effect that the steamer Aragorial departed for the West Indies with warlike intentious, and that she carried about one thousand men, together with an ample cargo of gons and carridges. The new United States Marshal ordered his subordinates to inquire into the matter, and they ascertained that the Arago was cleared from the customhouse for St. Thomas, W. I., on Friday last, and that she subsequent-auchored at Gravesend Bay, on the Long Island coast, nine miles distant from the battery, going from thence to sea on Monday, in stead of the following day, as was announced in some of the morning journals. Her pilot was found by the marshal's officer, and he stoutly contradicted the statement that there were men and arms on board the steamer, pronouncing it felse in every particular. He was corroborated by another pilot, who was a witness to the departure of the vessel.

STATEMENT OF CAPIAIN HAZARD.

STATEMENT OF CAPTAIN HAZARD.

He says that he was coming up the bay on Tuesday afternoon, when he was hailed by Mr. Walters, of the Wrecking Company, from the Battery, and told to go to the foot of Springstreet, North River, and receive a cargo of passengers. He accordingly did so, and found about sevenly-five men on the dock awaiting his arrival. They had no baggage and were apparently very appicus to get away. The most of them talked Spanish, and behaved in a manner calculated to excite suspicion. After a manner calculated to excite suspicion. After they came on board, a man who asted as their leader requested the captain to put them on board the steamer Pierrot, which was lying near Governor's Island.

near Governor's Island.

On the arrival of the tugboat at the latter vessel a large assemblage of dark-complexioned men were discovered on her upper deck. About 125 of these were brought there by the tugboat Yankee from the foot of Eighth-street, North River. The steam tug Martha was also reported to have conveved men on board, including the leaders of the expedition. She was seen lying alongside the Pierrot by Captain Hazard. The commander of the steamer, Captain George Fletcher, in conversation with Captain Hazard, divulged to him the existence of always of streams. Captain Hazard, divulged to him the existence of a large or go of arms and ammunition in the hold of his vessel. He said that they were obtained from Governor's Island, and that he had them transferred by a tugboat to his vessel on Thursday last, the latter lying a Adlantic Basin, Brooklyn, at that time. Captain Hazard regarded this information as reliable. The organizer of the expedition is represented to be General Domingo de Goisouria, who has devoter his whole life to struggles for Cuban independence, besides engaging in numerous filibustering movements.

independence, besides engaging in numerous filibustering movements.

In 1850 he fought against the Spaniards under Lopez, and he afterward participated with Walker in his raid on Nicaragua. He is described as a man of medium height, spare build, long grey beard and very dark and piercing eyes. After the Pierrot had received the men from the tug boat Philip she weighed anchor and stood out to sea. It was intimated anchor and stood out to sea. It was intimated to Captain Hazard that she would land her passengers somewhere along the Cuban coast, and that they would subsequently unite with the insurgents. He was not made cognizant of he fact, however, until it was too late to be o use to the authorities here. The Pierrot, it is alleged, is owned by Spofford, Tileston & Co. and is regularly run between this city, Havans and is regularly run between this city, Havana, New Orleans and Galveston. The Arago, which left on Monday, is believed to be on her way to join a Peruvian squadron which is fitting out near New Orleans. She was formerly owned by the North American Steamship Company, but sold by them on the 26th of April to parties unknown, the company giving a bill of sale in blank.

ACTION OF THE GOVERNMENT. The New York Sun has the following:

The New York Sun has the following:

While the Cuban patriots and the people of this city are sending brave men and the sinews of war to aid in the work of consecrating Cuba to freedom, the authorities at Washington are using their official strength to crush the patriots, and perpetuate the tyranny of Spain in Cuba. We learn that the Spanish minister has been assured that United States vessels shall be sent to intercept the expeditions, and that revenue cutters have sailed for that purpose.
A revenue cutter sailed from the Brooklyn Navy

IMPORTANT AND INIERISTING PROCEEDINGS.

First Day.

This Convention assembled in Macon, Ga., on Thursday, the 6th instant, and was called to order by the President, the Rev. Dr. Mell, who had not be cooperation. These content by the President, the Rev. Dr. Convention the present president from the Glorect Bay.

The usual prelimmary devotional exercises were had, Rev. J. J. D. Benfree, of Aiabama, offering the opening prayer. The Convention then proceeded to organize.

The president requested the delegates from the different States to hand in their rames to the secretary, which was done, and it was assecrationed that the following States were represented in the Convention: Maryland and the District of Columbia, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Tezas, Tonnessee, Kentucky and Missouri. BOOK FUBLICATIONS.

The board also have the stereotype plates of a fifty volume library, originally gotten up by the Southern Baptist Sunday School Union, which will be, to some extent, revised, and a new library brought out at an early day. In the item of these plates if will be seen that the assets of the board have been increased from $300 to $3,64550.

In addition to thus, at the request of the board. Rev. J. R. Graves has undertaken to raise $10,000 for the publication of a new one hundred volume library and in a few weeks has secured pledges sufficient for ten volumes of this addition from the following persons, schools and churches, viz. J. R. Graves, $100; First Baptist Church, Memphis, $100; Central Baptist Church, $100; Benion-street Sabbath School, St. Louis, $102; Corinth Eaplist Church, Mississippi, $100; Sardis Church, Mississippi, $100; Armuchee (Church Georgia, $100; and others promised. The name of the donor is placed on the stereotype plates of the book. We have also miscellaneous pledges, amounting to several hundred dollars, most of which will be realized.

In addition we ask for the West—for the wide extending fields where the harvest is ready and the laborers so few—for the myriads of, children, who must so soon take an actige part in controlling the destinies of our country for the cause of Christ—dear to him as the apple of his eye—we sak the sympathy and co-operation of the Baptist's, represented in the Southern Convention, in directions and needed work.

on this subject the content of the seminary, then addressed by Rev. Dr. Jete Virginia, a trustee.

Rev. Dr. Boyes, of South Case and President of the Seminary, then addressed the convention, and gave a flattering account of the prospects of the institution. He wild there was not now, in his mind, a shadow of doubt of its success. The institution, which was now happily nearly free of debt; that the ever at present forty-six students connected with the seminary, a larger number that here at present connected with any private of close of students, he said, lad in part been secured by the low price at which they had been able to put the rate of board to the students—that price being but $8 20 per month. Dr. Boyes complimented the State of Virginia for the noble part she, impoverished as she was, had aken in sustaining the institution. Notwithstanding, he said, that the brethren in Virginia had raised over $100,000 for the endowment of a Baptist institution in that State, she had contributed according to be said the removement of the removement of the removement of the properticular according to be said the removement of the removeme the board a part of their salaries.

Discussion originated upon the propriety and justice of allowing the missionaries to go without their full salaries, which discussion was particinated in by Rev. H. A. Tupper, of Georgia, and Rev. Dr. N. M. Crawford, of Kentucky.

The report was then, on motion of Rev. H. A. Tupper, of Georgia, referred to four special committees—Committee on Agencies, Rev. N. M. Crawford, of Kentucky, chairman; Committee on Colliseum Place Church, of New Orleans, Hon. D. A. Vason, of Georgia, chairman; Committee on Missions, Rev. Dr. Fuller, of Maryland, chairman; Committee on Indebtedness, Rev. H. A. Tupper, of Georgia, chairman.

Rev. Dr. Fuller, of Baltimore, then address kev. Dr. Poindexeer made a stirring appear to the convention in behalf of the institution. Kev. Charles Maply, of Alabama, son of the late Rev. Basil Manly, D. D., a raduate of the seminary, announced to the convention that the library of his father, in accordance with his father's intention, would; in the course of the year, be turned over to the Theological Semi-year, be turned over to the Theological Seminary at Greenville.

Other addresses and appeals were made, and an opportunity afforded to raise subarrations to the endowment of the institution. Responses were liberally made, from individual members of churches, North as well as South, and from churches. A proposition had been made at Baltimore last year to raise $40,000 in $500 bonds, making in all 80 bonds. Fifty of these bonds had been taken at Baltimore, and as the payment of the coupons of the same were conditioned on the taking of the whole 80, the effort was made to raise the 50 additional, all of which were raised except two. Dr. Fuller, from the special committee, read the report on the Chinese, Indian and African Missions.

Dr. Fuller, from the special committee, read the report on the Chinese, Indian and African Missions.

As the report was the foundation of animated discussion we publish it substantially entire.

The committee to which was referred ao much of the report of the Domestic and Indian Mission Board as relates to the Chinese, Indian and colored people, respectfully report:

First. That this body has cause to be grateful to God for each a zealous, self-denying, laborer as brother Schneider, and that it is our duty to co-operate with the Maryland Union Association, in sustaining the missionary and his small but faithful church.

The Indians, as the original owners of the land we occupy, are objects of great interest and ought to awaken our tender sympathice. As opportunity offers and as funds are turnished, your committee recommend that the board meet the renewed aptudes and wants of the Creeks, Choctaws and Cherokes.

The portion of the report which embraces the freedmen is very brief, and it demands our prayerful attention. Before the late war, Southern masters, (with few exceptions, and these mate most odious by the common instinctive verdies of our entire stative land,) were friends of the negro, and whatever chinges the war breught, he should not be held accountable for them.

As those to whom we once sustained most close and solemn relations, these people should now be regarded as having peculiar claims upon us. The colored people are exceedingly disposed to religious exotement, and are, therefore, alarmingly exposed to the artifices of fanatics and demagrance. Preachers they will have. Already they are beginning to open their eyes to designing men from the South as well as the North, whe have crept in among them to preach their between the enemy is so bay sowing weeds, and from which our contributions and told missionares into the field which is at our doors, in which the enemy is so bay sowing weeds, and from which our contributions and told missionares into the field which is at our doors, in which the enemy is blesned harvest.

Before concluding this report we would sug-ple of this country.

Dr. Samson explained that there were thirty of that class some time ago. He thought there must be now not less than one hundred.

Rev. Mr. Morgan, of England, who has been for some months travelling in this country, and the country. He had been intravelling over the country. He had been incline to say, like the Queen of Sheba, the half had not been told him. He expressed the deep interest which he felt in the elevation of the four millions of colored people in the land, and desired that the convention express, by resolution, their feelings on that subject. He wanted the convention to express, by resolution, whether they desired and (which had thought they could get) in the elevation and education of the colored people, or whether they intended to do all for them themselves.

Rev. J. Culpeper, of South Carolina, spoke in opposition to the spirit of Rev. Mr. Morgan's remarks. He advocated the religious instruction of the colored people, but thought that great injury had been done them by the political preachers who had come in to preach among them for the sake of filthy lucre, or for the promotion of their political aims.

The report drew forth an interesting discussion from Rev. Drs. Poindexier, Winkler, Reynolds, and Dargan. All of these ministers expressed themselves strongly in favor of educating, religiously, the colored people, but bore strong testimony against the influence of the n-w comers to teach the negroes politics as well as religious.

as well as religion.

Rev. M. J. Wellborn, of Georgia, thanked God for the report. He regarded it as the work of God working in the hearts of the brethren.

After some remarks by Rev. Mr. Williams,
Hon. D. A. Vason, of Georgia, offered the following resol tions:

Resolved, That we recognize as our highest duty to engage immediately in the work of sending the Gospel of Christ to the colored people within our bounds, and for that purpose

Resolved. That a committee of five members of the Baptist Church be appointed for each State represented in this body, who shall be sittly now never a complish that object.

Resolved. That such committees shall be auxiliary to the domestic board of this body, Judge Vason made some forcible remarks on the introduction of his resolutions, in favor of placing the education of the colored people under the case of Southern Christians.

On motion, the report together with the reserved.

On motion, the report together with the resolutions of Judge Vason, were recommitted to the special committee, to which the names of Vason, Je er and Williams were added.

The Committee on Preaching submitted their report, which was referred, and the convention then adjourned.

In the evening a mass meeting of the friends of domestic missions was held, at which interesting addresses were delivered and a collection taken up. [The above is condensed somewhat from the full and able report of the proceedings of the convention published in the Macon Journal and Messenger.—ED. News.]

The Washington National Intelligencer dent at present to take any official notice of Cuban affairs. The government has not been officially notified of the troubles there in a manner to require any other interference than such as may be necessary to protect American citizons and interests, and keep well informed as to the progress of events. These things citizens and interests, and keep well informed as to the progress of events. These things General Grant has no doubt provided for, although he may not deem it wise to impart all the information he has in his possession to the public through the press. He is not indifferent to the patriotic desires of the insurgents, nor the commercial advantages that would result both to Cuba and to this country from annexation; but while affairs remain in their present position in Spain he does not see how we can in honor lend and and comfort to the insurgents of Cuba. It is most likely that should the Cuban Republicans achieve their independence and simily for annexation to this country. Cuban Republicans achieve their independent and apply for annexation to this country the President would act promptly and do all in his power consistent with honor to comply with the request."

AG LET US PROTECT OURSELVES.

The physical structure of the strongest human being is vulnerable everywhere. Our bodies are en-which protects them, to some extent, from unwhole-some influences; but this protection is imperfect, and cannot be safely relied on in unhealthy regions, or under circumstances of more than ordinary dan ger. Therefore, it is wisdom, it is prudence, it is common sense to provide against such contingencies by taking an ANTIDOTE IN ADVANCE: in other words by fortifying the system with HOSTETTER'S STO-MACH BITTERS—the most complete protective sgainst all the epidemic and endemic maladi s that has ever been administered in any country. As a remedy for Dyspepsis, there is no medicine that will compare with it. Whoever suffers the pangs of indigestion, anywhere on the face of the earth where HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS can be pro cured, does so voluntarily; for, as surely as truth exists, this invaluable route and alterative would restore his disordered stomach to a beauthy condi tion. To the nervous it is also especially recon nended, and in cases of confirmed constipation is also affords speedy and permanent relief.

In all cases of fever and ague the PITTERS is more potent than any smouth of quinque, while the most dangerous cases of hilpon-fever yield to its wonderful properties. Those who have tried the medicine will never use another, for any of the hilments which the HOSIET ER BILLERS professe to subdue. To those who have of made the experiment we cordially re ommend an early application to the BETTERS whenever they are stricken by disease of the digestive organs.
